

A Foundational Platform For Success Is Established

FOUNDER'S PROGRESS REPORT

Restoring Stolen Childhoods

The mission of Bridging Freedom is to combat domestic minor sex trafficking by bringing restoration to those who are rescued and prevention to those we reach with our message.

Bridging Freedom was conceived through prayer in 2010 "to do something" for God. Prayer and passion ignited first steps, and those steps produced success.

Your partnership helped support this God-given project in the development of a safe home community for young girls rescued from child-sex trafficking.

Your generous funds provided for:

- The development phase of the campus
- Progressive change in our State
- Awareness material and prevention tools
- Special events to educate the community about a problem targeting our vulnerable and unsuspecting children.
- Development of a safe home campus community to provide healing, hope, and purpose.

Your partnership funds have supported the goal of systemic change within the way children are holistically treated after surviving horrendous sex-slavery abuse.

Currently, most rescued children are placed back in their initial environment with few services to treat their trauma bonding and Stockholm Syndrome; therefore, victims often return to their abuser.

The successful strength-based program Bridging Freedom is replicating within our community will break her cycle of returning to the abuser by offering safety, trauma-informed therapy, health management, education, and life skills. We will help young girls recognize their potential, purpose, and dreams.

Bridging Freedom has contributed to a systemic change in how rescued girls will receive care in the State of Florida.

Your Awareness Support Has Helped Us Reach Over 400,000 people DIRECTLY

- Continued partnering with corporations, community social clubs, churches, and individuals.
- Developed proposals for grant funding.

2013

- Developed processes to bring in seed funding and Freedom League Partners to grow operations.
- Developed key pro-bono partnerships.
- Educated the Governor's Cabinet and Agency Secretaries of the successful therapeutic campus model.
- Seed funding allowed full time development mid-2013

2012

- Developed the start-up 501c3, marketing tools, and board of directors to begin operations.
- Successful therapeutic program identified and 1-1/2 year mentorship was granted to bring the program to Florida.

2011

- Campaigned to bring awareness and change to the issue of child sex trafficking in the State of Florida.

2010

- A vision was cast into the community to build a safe and healing place for rescued girls.

The following shows the stepwise strategic leveraging of Bridging Freedom's success.

Because you cared about the needs of our rescued children, you donated to make a difference.

Because you donated, you helped to:

Support operations and development to generate progress in building a healing campus and to transition a vision into reality.

Because you supported operations:

- A 501c3 was formed with a prestigious board of directors;
- Awareness was provided to the community;
- Prevention materials were created and provided to our families;
- A property donation was obtained;
- Community and legislative partnerships were formed for the advancement of solutions for our State.

Because these partnerships were formed, community support and grants were obtained.

Because the community supported Bridging Freedom, the State of Florida partnered to help with site development and direct care program funding.

Because the State of Florida helped fund land development and program services, Bridging Freedom is beginning to gain faith promises to build the homes. Two homes and three rooms in the third home thus far.

Thanks to you, healing, hope and purpose will come.

Because you cared, you gave:

Bridging Freedom presents Johnson & Blanton and Representative Jeanette Nuñez appreciation awards for their partnership and passion in providing healing and new hope for our children.

Governor Rick Scott with Bridging Freedom supporters at 2015 press release of four human trafficking bills ceremonially signed into law and announcement of funding for Bridging Freedom's project.

A team visits to see the vision becoming reality. Bridging Freedom is blessed with beautiful property to bring healing and renewed hope to young girls.

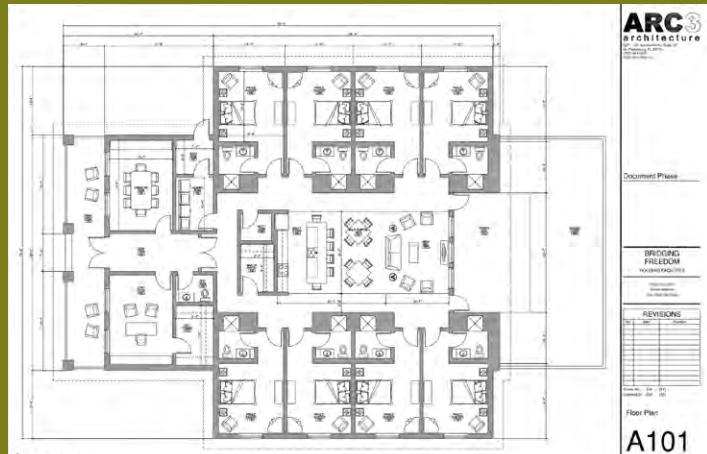

Site Development is underway with dedicated and passionate partners at DeBartolo Development, Arc3 Architecture, and Florida Design Consultants.

Next Steps for Community Partnerships

With site development underway and therapeutic program funding obtained, Bridging Freedom needs your help to finish the project.

Introductions provided by you can help us network to organizations that may potentially partner to build the remaining structures.

Each home takes approximately $450K; each room approximately $37K.

Two corporations have reached out to begin talks of partnerships for the intake home of 4 bed/baths and one for the six larger 8 bed/baths homes.

This would allow us to begin serving 12 young girls toward the end of 2017!

Three organizations are in talks to each build a room within the third home.

Every house has a counseling room for private therapy and a dedicated education room.

Four and a half homes, a lodge, and a chapel are still needed to serve the many children being rescued.

Kindly consider partnering today in memory or honor of someone special.

We need your help to continue building the campus that will rebuild lives.

This God-given project is an absolute Walk of Faith. We appreciate each and every one of you, our visionary champions!

The Staff and Board of Directors have leveraged each success to move this project forward. So much has been accomplished with so little: $460,000 has been prayed over, invested, leveraged and ultimately produced a platform for success. The vision to provide a safe, healing campus for our children is becoming a reality.

Thank you for joining this worthy cause. Together, we are helping to prevent child sex trafficking and building a safe campus. Next year, when the homes are constructed, we will offer healing, hope and purpose to rescued children. Together we can Restore Stolen Childhoods!

Thank you for all you do,
